1. About Us

Brands Academy Nigeria Foundation is a not-for-profit, non-political educational foundation incorporated in Nigeria to advance branding, marketing, communications and professional education. The Academy was established to close the gap between academic training and industry-ready branding practice, offering structured learning pathways for students, professionals, entrepreneurs and organisations across Nigeria and the wider West African region.

Registered as an Incorporated Trustee with the Corporate Affairs Commission (RC/IT No. 7344471), the Foundation is governed by a constitution that commits its income and property solely to the promotion of its educational objects, with no distribution of profit to members — the hallmark of a genuine public-benefit institution.

Mission

To democratise access to world-class branding, marketing and professional education by providing free and affordable training, mentorship and certification to students, professionals and marginalised communities across Nigeria.

Vision

To become West Africa's foremost academy for branding and professional excellence — recognised for producing certified, industry-ready practitioners and for advancing inclusive, community-centred education.

Brand Values

- Integrity — we operate transparently and hold our income and assets solely in trust for our educational mission.
- Excellence — our curricula and certification tracks are built to internationally benchmarked standards.
- Inclusion — we prioritise the educational needs of marginalised communities, including economically disadvantaged groups and ethnic minorities.
- Mentorship — we pair every learner with practical, guided support rather than content alone.
- Impact — we measure success by learner outcomes and community reach, not enrolment numbers.

Board of Trustees

The Academy is governed by a Board of Trustees duly registered with the Corporate Affairs Commission and appointed at the Annual General Meeting of 1 October 2023, ratified upon incorporation on 12 February 2024.

2. Manifesto

We believe branding is not decoration — it is strategy, trust and identity made visible. We believe that world-class branding education should not be the preserve of a privileged few, and that a well-trained brand practitioner can transform a small business, a public institution, or a community.

We commit to:

- Advocating for policy reform in education by engaging governments and institutions on curriculum and access.
- Providing free and subsidised training for teachers, students and professionals to build an inclusive learning environment.
- Supporting marginalised communities — including refugees, ethnic minorities and economically disadvantaged groups — through free community-based learning centres, scholarships and vocational programmes.
- Holding ourselves to measurable standards of certification, mentorship and industry relevance.
- Reinvesting all income solely into the promotion of our educational objects, as bound by our constitution.

- Step 2 — Application: Applicants complete a short application form providing background, objectives and (where applicable) sponsoring organisation details.

- Step 5 — Orientation: New learners attend an orientation session covering programme structure, mentorship pairing and platform access.

5. Training — Private & Group Training

Private Training

One-on-one and small-cohort sessions tailored to an individual's or organisation's specific branding and professional-development needs, delivered in person or online with flexible scheduling.

Group Training

Structured cohort-based training for teams, professional associations and community groups, combining live instruction, practical assignments and peer learning. Group training underpins the Academy's free-training mandate for teachers and professionals.

6. Guided Mentorship & Training

Every Academy learner is paired with a mentor drawn from the Academy's network of branding, marketing and business practitioners. The mentorship model combines structured curriculum with ongoing, practical guidance — helping learners apply concepts to real projects, build portfolios and transition into practice or entrepreneurship.

7. Our Programs

- Foundations of Branding and Brand Strategy
- Marketing Communications and Digital Marketing
- Brand Identity, Design and Visual Communication
- Entrepreneurship and Personal Branding
- Corporate Communications and Reputation Management
- Community and Vocational Training Programmes (free-access track)

8. Corporate Training, Licensing & Certification

Organisations may license Academy curricula for internal staff training or enrol teams directly into certification tracks. Corporate partners receive customised training delivery, progress reporting and access to the Academy's certification framework.

Our Certification & Licensing Tracks

- Certified Brand Associate (CBA) — foundational certification for early-career practitioners
- Certified Brand Strategist (CBS) — intermediate track for practising marketers and brand managers
- Certified Brand Executive (CBE) — advanced track for senior professionals and executives
- Institutional Licensing — curriculum licences for schools, corporates and public institutions to deliver Academy-accredited training under supervision

9. Executive Education

Short, intensive programmes designed for senior professionals, business owners and public-sector executives who require strategic branding and communications competence without a full academic commitment. Executive Education sessions are delivered as workshops, retreats and modular short courses.

10. Academics

The Academy's academic track offers structured, syllabus-based courses aligned to recognised branding and marketing competency frameworks, intended for students and professionals seeking a rigorous, credit-bearing learning pathway alongside the Academy's shorter certification and mentorship offerings.

11. Branding Certification Pathway

Learners progress through a tiered pathway — from foundational literacy in brand concepts, through applied strategy and portfolio-based assessment, to advanced executive certification. Each tier builds on the last, and progression is guided by mentors and evaluated through practical assignments rather than examinations alone.

- Tier 1 — Foundation: core concepts, terminology and brand thinking
- Tier 2 — Practitioner: applied brand strategy, campaigns and portfolio development
- Tier 3 — Executive: leadership-level brand and reputation strategy

12. Digital Credentials

On completion of a certification track, learners receive a verifiable digital credential (digital badge and certificate) that can be shared on professional networks and verified by employers and partner institutions — supporting the Academy's commitment to transparent, portable proof of learning.

13. Programs and Solutions

Beyond individual learner programmes, the Academy offers tailored solutions for institutions:

- Curriculum design and co-branded programmes with universities and colleges

- Staff capacity-building for corporate and public-sector partners
- Community outreach and free-training initiatives for underserved groups
- Advisory and consulting support on brand and communications strategy

14. Conferences & Upcoming Programs

The Academy convenes periodic conferences, seminars and workshops bringing together practitioners, academics and learners to exchange knowledge on branding, marketing and professional development trends. Details of upcoming cohorts, conferences and enrolment windows are published through the Academy's official communication channels.
